Hughes Works Out Plan
Providing American
Share of Industry

ALLIES GIVE CONSENT

Income Would Apply on
of Occupation.

Washington, Sept. 27.—Germany's debt of $200,000,000 for maintaining the American army of occupation on the Rhine is to be paid by means of dyes under a plan worked out by Secretary of State Hughes and approved by the reparations commission, international news service learned today.

The plan provides that the American share of German dyes shall not be paid in cash, but shall be credited upon the German account for the cost of maintaining United States troops in the Rhineland.

The allied governments have consented to this proposal notwithstanding the fact that they raised strenuous objection when this government suggested some months ago that the United States expect to be compensated for the cost of maintaining the army of occupation before any payments were made on general reparations.

The situation with regard to German dyes is very complicated. While the peace conference was in session at Paris, negotiations on this subject were conducted at Spa, it being decided that twenty-five per cent of all German dyes should be turned over to the Allies. Of this amount the United States was to receive one-fifth, it being agreed that this government should pay for the dyes at market prices. The other allied governments were to receive their shares with out payment, the amount to be credited on the German reparations account.

These dyes, have been delivered to the United States and distributed by the textile alliance, a voluntary body which operated for the good of the American dye using industry and without profit. With the negotiation of the peace treaty between the United States and Germany, however it became necessary for the United States to provide some machinery for distributing the dyes in America, particularly since the treaty provided for continued delivery of the American share of dyes.

No such machinery has as yet been provided, congress having hesitated to legislate on this point pending a decision as to whether an embargo should be placed upon foreign dyes. The present tariff bill does not place an embargo on German dyes, but it provides for a very high tariff, though this duty is not expected to prevent importation of the American share of five per cent of the total German dye output.

The agreement of the reparations commission to permit the United States to receive its share of German dyes without actual cash payment, the amounts to apply upon the costs of the army of occupation is regarded as a distinct diplomatic victory for the United States government. While Secretary Hughes in his note to the reparations commission sharply called attention to the fact that the costs of the army of occupation constituted a prior lien upon the resources of Germany and would have to be provided for by the allies before they were to take payments on general reparations, it was assumed that a long time would elapse before the United States began to realize on the army of occupation account.

HOUGH AGAINST BEER PROPOSAL

Columbus, Sept. 27.—Chief Justice Marshall, Zanesville, and Judge Hough, Delaware, of the state supreme court it became known today, are writing dissenting opinions relative to the recent decrees issued by the court ordering Secretary of State Smith to place the proposed beer, wine amendment to the state constitution on the November ballot. When the court's decision was announced Judge Hough was erroneously credited with being present and not voting. Judge Hough was out of the city when the vote was taken. Upon his return, he announced today, he cast his vote against placing the proposal on the ballot.

HANDWRITING OF LETTER WILL SHOW DISEASE AND EXACT LOCATION DECLARES SAN FRANCISCO DOCTOR

Chicago, Sept. 27.—The amazing assertion that from the handwriting on a letter or a note can be diagnosed disease and its exact location on the body of the writer, was made by Dr. Albert Abrams, of San Francisco, who is here to lecture before a medical body, in an exclusive, interview given to the International News Service.

Not only can diseases be diagnosed from hand writing but the sex of the writer whether living or dead and the location of the writer at the time the writing is examined, also can be determined, Dr. Abrams asserted.

"I know this sounds grotesque," said the scientist, whose past discoveries have gone down in medical history, "but I have done it. My students have done it. There is nothing grotesque about it when one understands the electronic theory." The electronic theory which Dr. Abrams worked on for more than ten years is based upon the accepted fact that all life is electronic motion. Dr. Abrams claims and substantiates his claim by 12,000 infallibly diagnosed cases, that all diseases are nothing more than the electrons jarred out of their normal positions, "electrons gone made." And to cure all diseases all that is necessary is to combat the radio-activity which each disease has by a precise counter radio activity. Dr. Abrams, in making these assertions offers a complete catalogue of almost all known diseases, with their specific radio activity which can be used to destroy that disease.

Upon this theory also Dr. Abrams bases the assertion that from one's handwriting can be discovered the sex, disease, if any, and location of the writer.

"All life," said Dr. Abrams, "is electronic energy. When one writes the electronic energy is transferred indelibly to the paper and that electronic energy can be diagnosed."

TEN MORE BRITISH MEN OF WAR SENT TO DARDANELLES

Report Turks Make Another
Incursion Into the Neutral Zone

Constantinople, Sept. 27.—Ten more British men of war arrived in Dardanelles today to reinforce the British fleet.

The tension here was increased by reports that the Turks had made another incursion into the neutral zone in the vicinity of Bigha, reinforcing their positions, with machine guns. There were two sets of opinions here. One that the Turks were screening the real movements of their troops by the activities of mobile detachments; second, that the Turks were maneuvering to get the British to open fire upon them so that responsibility for "starting the war" could be put upon the British.

Rumors are persistent that Kemal will not accept the Paris note in its entirety although it is known that some of the conditions are favorable to the Turks for they had announced their acceptance of these terms even before the note was drawn.

Constantinople, Sept. 27.—An armistice conference has been arranged for Sunday to end hostilities between the Turks and Greeks and to prevent war between the Turks and the British, according to information from Ankara today. Admiral Bristol of the United States navy, American high commissioner will be an observer at the conference.

New Jersey Senator is Laying
Plans for Vigorous Campaign.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 27.—Apparently assured of renomination by the Republican party in yesterday's primary elections U. S. Senator Frelinghuysen began laying plans today for a vigorous campaign for reelection in the November election. Returns today indicate that Senator Frelinghuysen had defeated George L. Record for the Republican nomination by a plurality of about 80,000.

Senator Frelinghuysen, at his headquarters in Raritan announced his platform would be ready for presentation to the voters by Saturday.

Prohibition, Senator Frelinghuysen said, will be the principal issue of the campaign. He will be opposed by Governor Edward I. Edwards, who won the Democratic senatorial nomination without opposition. Gov. Edwards has announced his support of efforts to obtain modification of the Volstead act. Frelinghuysen has supported prohibition legislation in the senate.

"Every part of the state will be covered," said Frelinghuysen, discussing his campaign plans. "All voters will have an opportunity to meet and talk to the Republican candidate."

SUPREME COURT OF OHIO WILL DECIDE ON BEER PROPOSAL

Expected to Decide On Whether it Will Hear
Case After Dismissal

Columbus, Sept. 27.—George S. Hawke, Cincinnati, today filed in the state supreme court a petition in error, appealing from the action of the Franklin county appellate court which dismissed his suit in which he seeks to prevent Secretary of State Smith from placing on the November ballot the proposed beer-light wines amendment to the state constitution.

Hawke, in open court on Hawke's appeal is scheduled to begin at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Columbus, Sept. 27.—The State Supreme Court today is expected to decide whether it will hear the appeal of George S. Hawke, Cincinnati, from the action of the Franklin County Appellate Court which late yesterday dismissed his suit in which he seeks to have Secretary of State Smith enjoined from placing on the November ballot the proposed beer-light wines amendment to the state constitution. Validity of signatures on the wet's initiated petitions was challenged by Hawke.

Under the law, the Secretary of State must send the state ballot to the county election boards tomorrow—40 days before election.

The Supreme Court recently complied with the request of supporters of the proposed amendment, the Secretary Smith be ordered to place the proposal on the November ballot.

Announcing its decision, the Appellate Court said:

"If another court, at the suit of another tax payer, could enjoin the secretary of state from proceeding, according to the order of the Supreme Court then the secretary of state would find himself in an embarrassing situation and the result would be a serious reflection upon the administration of justice."

"It is a sound rule of law that a defense made on behalf of the public by a public officer, is, in the absence of fraud, or collusion, conclusive against the individual members of the public."

KING CONSTANTINE OF GREECE ABDICATES THRONE; CABINET OUT

Earlier Report Confirmed Wednesday—Crown Prince George May Ascend to Power Unless Dictatorship Established

Rome, Sept. 27.—Greek revolutionaries are marching upon Athens threatening to occupy the city, according to information from there this afternoon.

The revolutionists were said to be in complete control of Saloniki, Witylene and Chios.

Soldiers and sailors cooperated in seizing local administrations of the government.

Revolution has broken out in Albania, said advices from Avalona today. Insurgents having defeated the regular troops are marching northward. The population is fleeing in panic.

Trieste, Sept. 27.—Jugo-Slavia has ordered "mobilization for national defense," according to information received here today from Belgrade.

London, Sept. 27.—King Constantine of Greece has abdicated as the result of revolution, said official advices from Athens this afternoon. It had been reported since Tuesday night that Constantine had renounced the Hellenic throne but it was not until this afternoon that the British government received official confirmation of the rumors. It is understood that Constantine, in his letter of abdication, made no reservations.

There are two possibilities open: First, a military dictatorship at Athens; second, the ascent of Crown Prince George to the throne.

Former Premier Venizelos, the "strong man of Greece," who became an exile when Constantine returned to Athens, may return to Athens.

The Greek cabinet has resigned. A revolutionary army is marching upon Athens.

The revolutionists demand the protection of Thrace from Turkish occupation.

Belief is current in Greek official circles that Crown Prince George will recall former Premier Venizelos to form a "nationalist" or coalition cabinet.

An unconfirmed dispatch to the Times reported that the Christian population of Bigha had been wiped out by the Turks. Nine hundred Greek and Armenian Christians were said to have been seized in towns in the Bigha district, and carried off for massacre. Many were shot down; others were beheaded by soldiers.

Reports from Broussa indicated that the Turks were getting out of hand and the officers were having a difficult time to keep them in check.

All Greece is gripped by revolutionary turmoil today. An Athens dispatch reports that the navy has joined with the army in the anti-government uprising.

Martial law has been proclaimed. Leaders of the uprising have established headquarters at Saloniki. They announce that they will retain Thrace "despite the demands of the Turks and the decisions of the allies."

Before tendering its resignation the Greek cabinet was in continuous session for many hours attempting to find a solution that would placate the people.

Athens was described as a hot bed of excitement with the streets filled with crowds surging to and fro. Constantine gave out news that he was preparing a manifesto asking the people to refrain from bloodshed.

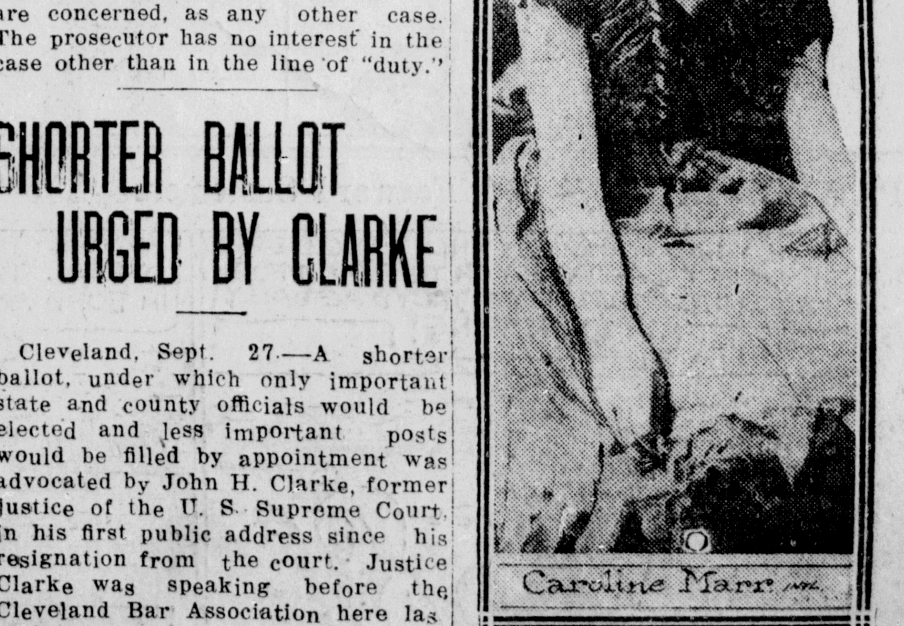

According to unofficial advices the revolution started in the Greek navy and spread to the army. Dispatches received here up to noon said that the revolutionary movement was "making progress."

Airmen were reported to have joined the rebels, sailing over Saloniki and other cities in the eastern part of Greece dropping pamphlets calling upon the people to rise up against Constantine.

British officials are getting anxious over the part that Russia may play in the near east.

Following the Russian note demanding participation in the near east peace conference word was received that Russian representatives would meet with envoys of the German government at Berlin to outline a joint Russo-German near east policy.

CAN'T SEARCH SHIPS

Officials Forced to Abandon Plans for Sweep of the Seas.

Washington, Sept. 27.—The federal prohibition enforcement organization was turned topsy turvey today in a rush to revise existing regulations to make them to conform to President Harding's decision placing a curb on the operation of the "prohibition navy" beyond the three mile limit. Draconic rules already promulgated for the maneuvering of the dry navy forces on the high seas were virtually withdrawn.

Harry orders went out from Prohibition Commissioner Haynes' office ordering commanders of dry naval vessels to stop their promiscuous holding up of foreign ships in search of liquors. The ships hereafter will confine their cruising largely to waters within the three mile zone. Prohibition officials were upset by suddenness of the president's edict. It followed vigorous protest lodged with the state department by British Ambassador Geddes over seizures of British vessels laden with liquor outside the 12-mile limit.

Prohibition officials today were plans for a sweep of the seas for a forced to abandon well-considered general clean up of all liquor-laden vessels of foreign registry. It is said the state department became alarmed over the possibility of Commissioner Haynes' latest orders. They were drastic in character and were designed to give no ground to any foreign ship suspected of carrying liquor. The burden of proof of these orders was upon the master of the vessel to show that the liquors carried were not destined for American shores. It is said that British masters often have been embarrassed when presenting their papers to customs officers by being accused of having falsified their manifests. Such instances were brought to the attention of the British embassy here, and made a matter of record for the state department.

In diplomatic circles today the prediction was made that British and other shipping concerns, whose boats have been seized, will have the strong backing of the British government in attempts to recover the vessels and the cargoes they carried.

Attorney General Daugherty is not hurrying a decision on the rights of foreign vessels to carry liquor in domestic waters until the diplomatic tangle is settled.

Search of foreign vessels for contraband liquor outside the international three-mile limit may be made hereafter, it was said, only in the event the vessels actually establish communication with American shores by means of their own crews or small boats.

Search under such circumstances was upheld recently by Federal Judge Morton at Boston in the case of the British schooner, Grace and Ruby.

An appeal in that case has been taken to the supreme court and it was said a decision would be hastened.

Foreign vessels outside the three mile limit unloading their cargoes of contraband rum onto craft from American shores would not come within the federal law, in the view of high administration officials.

Both firms buildings were left almost total ruins. The fire started about 1 o'clock in the rear of the first floor of the Crump and Field establishment, it was believed. A policeman saw a light in the building and notified the fire department. Several alarms were sent in resulting in the rushing to the spot of every piece of apparatus in the city.

ANOTHER VETERAN FOOTBALL PLAYER BACK AT SCHOOL

Hopes of Central High School football fans for another championship team went soaring Monday when Bob Yeakley, star center and captain-elect for the coming basketball season, returned to school.

With the resumption of his academic work, Yeakley will now be eligible for the blue and white football eleven that Coach Earl Burgner is developing at the Fairgrounds and he will probably be seen in action in his old familiar place, when the team gets its baptism of fire against the Greenville High eleven Friday afternoon.

Yeakley is a veteran of the squad a first water pivot man on both offense and defense, especially in the latter department and one of the most popular athletes in school. His return to the squad has greatly inspired the local athletes, and has helped greatly to round out the team. Joe Hendrickson, the huge tackle of last year's eleven, is now the only hold-out on the squad and the athletes are still hopeful of bringing him into the fold.

Burgner's athletes will get the acid test Friday against a team that is a newcomer on the local schedule and one of which the local grid enthusiasts know but little. This is turning up week, representing the final days of preparation for the grid campaign and Coach Burgner has his squad going at top pitch to be in shape for the opening encounter of the season.

Fans who were disappointed with the announcement that Wilmington will not play here this season, are welcoming the news that Sidney another newcomer, has been booked for a date of October 13. Local athletic authorities thought Wilmington would appear here that day but owing to a misunderstanding the Quakers could not furnish a contract for that date and Sidney will play in this city on that date instead.

Dr. Dave Reese, former Denison University star griddier, and now stellar performer on the Dayton Tri-angler eleven, will referee the contest Friday, and will also handle all other home games here this season.

MOTHERS' CIRCLE OF SPRING HILL NOT TO AFFILIATE WITH P.T.A.

The Spring Hill School Mothers' Circle will not affiliate with the Parent-Teachers Association Federation of the city this year.

This was decided at a called meeting of the organization held Monday afternoon, when members voted to attempt to maintain the Circle as a separate organization.

Opposition that developed against the location of the Opportunity School in the Spring Hill building, and which was headed by the Mothers' Circle, has developed a feeling responsible for the action of the Mothers' Circle in reversing its original plan to affiliate with the Parent-Teachers Federation.

The Mothers' Circle led the attack on location of the Opportunity School there, instigating the circulation of petitions, which requested school authorities not to make the move. As a result of this opposition, school authorities abandoned the plan to locate the school there, and then on advice of the State Department of Public Instruction reestablished it in the Spring Hill school, carrying out its original plans.

The Spring Hill Mothers' Circle was not affiliated with the Federation last year, but had planned to take that step at the beginning of this year. When the agitation over the Opportunity school developed the Circle withheld action, and the action Monday reverses its original plans entirely.

The Mothers' Circle will hold its next meeting October 5, at the school building, when a special program will be held. Meetings of the organization will be held on the first Thursday in each month.

ANOTHER VETERAN FOOTBALL PLAYER BACK AT SCHOOL

Hopes of Central High School football fans for another championship team went soaring Monday when Bob Yeakley, star center and captain-elect for the coming basketball season, returned to school.

With the resumption of his academic work, Yeakley will now be eligible for the blue and white football eleven that Coach Earl Burgner is developing at the Fairgrounds and he will probably be seen in action in his old familiar place, when the team gets its baptism of fire against the Greenville High eleven Friday afternoon.

Yeakley is a veteran of the squad a first water pivot man on both offense and defense, especially in the latter department and one of the most popular athletes in school. His return to the squad has greatly inspired the local athletes, and has helped greatly to round out the team. Joe Hendrickson, the huge tackle of last year's eleven, is now the only hold-out on the squad and the athletes are still hopeful of bringing him into the fold.

Burgner's athletes will get the acid test Friday against a team that is a newcomer on the local schedule and one of which the local grid enthusiasts know but little. This is tuning up week, representing the final days of preparation for the grid campaign and Coach Burgner has his squad going at top pitch to be in shape for the opening encounter of the season.

Fans who were disappointed with the announcement that Wilmington will not play here this season, are welcoming the news that Sidney another newcomer, has been booked for a date of October 13. Local athletic authorities thought Wilmington would appear here that day but owing to a misunderstanding the Quakers could not furnish a contract for that date and Sidney will play in this city on that date instead.

Dr. Dave Reese, former Denison University star gridder, and now stellar performer on the Dayton Triangles eleven, will referee the contest Friday, and will also handle all other home games here this season.

MOTHERS' CIRCLE OF SPRING HILL NOT TO AFFILIATE WITH P.T.A.

The Spring Hill School Mothers' Circle will not affiliate with the Parent-Teachers' Association Federation of the city this year.

This was decided at a called meeting of the organization held Monday afternoon, when members voted to attempt to maintain the Circle as a separate organization.

Opposition that developed against the location of the Opportunity School in the Spring Hill building and which was headed by the Mothers' Circle, has developed a feeling responsible for the action of the Mothers' Circle in reversing its original plan to affiliate with the Parent-Teachers' Federation.

The Mothers' Circle led the attack on location of the Opportunity School there, instigating the circulation of petitions, which requested school authorities not to make the move. As a result of this opposition, school authorities abandoned the plan to locate the school there, and then on advice of the State Department of Public Instruction reestablished it in the Spring Hill school, carrying out its original plans.

The Spring Hill Mothers' Circle was not affiliated with the Federation last year, but had planned to take that step at the beginning of this year. When the agitation over the Opportunity school developed the Circle withheld action, and the action Monday reverses its original plans entirely.

The Mothers' Circle will hold its next meeting October 5, at the school building, when a special program will be held. Meetings of the organization will be held on the first Thursday in each month.

ANDREW-HARVEY WEDDING SOLEMNIZED AT CEDARVILLE.

The marriage of Miss Vera Andrew and Mr. John Speed Harvey, of Huntington, West Virginia, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Andrew at Cedarville, on Tuesday evening, September 26, at seven o'clock.

Immediately preceding the ceremony Miss Stella Bishop of this city rendered the following program at the piano:

Prayer from the Jewels of the Meadows, Wolf-Ferrari.
Old Irish Song, Percy Grainger.
Romance, Sillins.
Lieselsied, Scott.

As the bridal party assembled, Miss Bishop played softly Schuman's Nocturne.

Just at seven o'clock the ribbon bearers, Miss Margaret Lynn Jack, a niece of the groom, and Miss Regina Smith, a cousin of the bride entered the living room carrying the ribbons which formed the aisle for the bridal party. The groom entered attended by his best man, Robert Cameron Thompson, of Virginia. The bride, in a lovely wedding gown of embroidered Japanese crepe trimmed in Venetian Point lace, entered on the arm of her father. Her dress was made with train. The coronet of her veil was made of Venetian Point and caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bride and groom took their places in front of a bank of ferns and palms centered around the mantel, piece which was banked with pink roses and snap dragons. Two large candelabra shed a soft glow over the room. The service was read by Dr. White of the United Presbyterian Church, Cedarville, the ring ceremony being used.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harvey led the way to the dining room where a five course supper was served. The bride's table was profusely decorated with pink roses, smilax and tulle. Seated at the table with the bride and groom were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jack, Mr. Robert Cameron Thompson, Miss Florence Smith, Miss Marjorie McClellan, Mr. Ralph Murdock, Miss Bertha Townsley, Miss Stella Bishop, Miss Ina Murdock, Miss L. Harvey. Much interest was aroused when the bride cut the cake, a magnificent two story Lady's Cake. The ring was found by Mr. Robert Thompson, the money by Miss Bertha Townsley, the wish bone by Miss Florence Smith, the thimble by Rev. White, the button by Mrs. Harvey (the bride). Later in the evening (the bride) of wedding cake were given to the guests.

HAS TRIP SPOILED PRINCES GOOD NATURE

London, Sept. 27.—What has the Indian tour done to the Prince of Wales?

Has it destroyed his youth? These are the questions that all London now asks. Everyone now sees the change in the Prince since his return from his adventurous tour, and the general inquiry is whether it was worth while after all.

From a fresh-colored, smiling eager boy the Prince has turned into a man of early middle age. All the old light-heartedness seems to have deserted him and, wherever he appears, he looks weighed down by care.

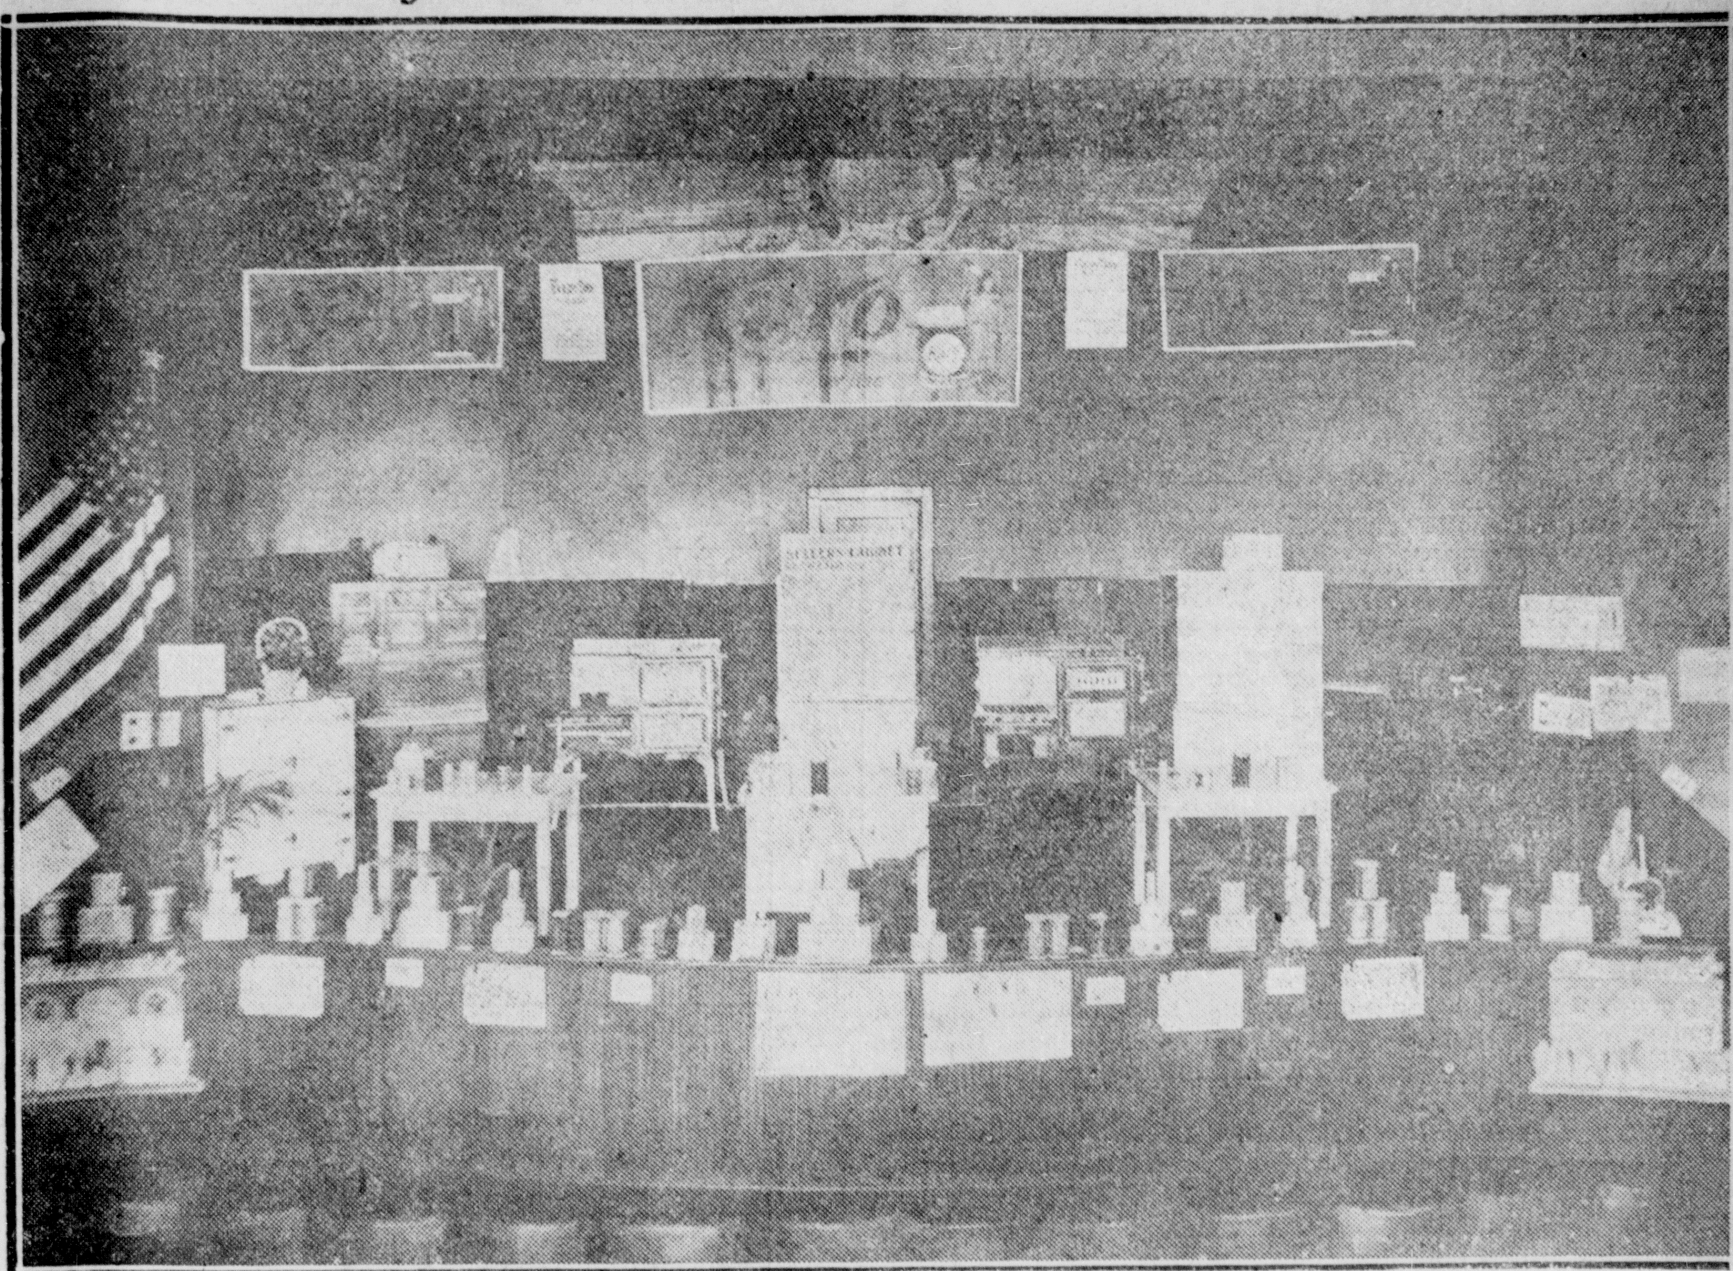

And there is a curious, apprehensive watchful glance in his eye that none of his friends like. Talking to a friend, his glance is always roving the ground fifty yards ahead. It is not fear, but a kind of sub-conscious watchfulness. He seems like a man never released from an unending strain.

Resi—perhaps a happy marriage—may bring back the old ease and gaiety. But at present the young Prince looks like a man who has survived a terrible ordeal.

SUMMONS CABINET

London, Sept. 27.—Premier Lloyd George has summoned a meeting of the cabinet for 7 o'clock to discuss the near east developments precipitated by the abdication of King Constantine.

Columbus, Sept. 27.—Attorney M.E. Thrallhill, Columbus, today filed a suit in the Franklin County Common Pleas Court here asking that Secretary of State Smith be enjoined from placing on the November ballot, the proposed taxation amendment to the state constitution. Has it destroyed his youth? These are the questions that all London now asks. Everyone now sees the change in the Prince since his return from his adventurous tour, and the general inquiry is whether it was worth while after all.

From a fresh-colored, smiling eager boy the Prince has turned into a man of early middle age. All the old light-heartedness seems to have deserted him and, wherever he appears he looks weighed down by care.

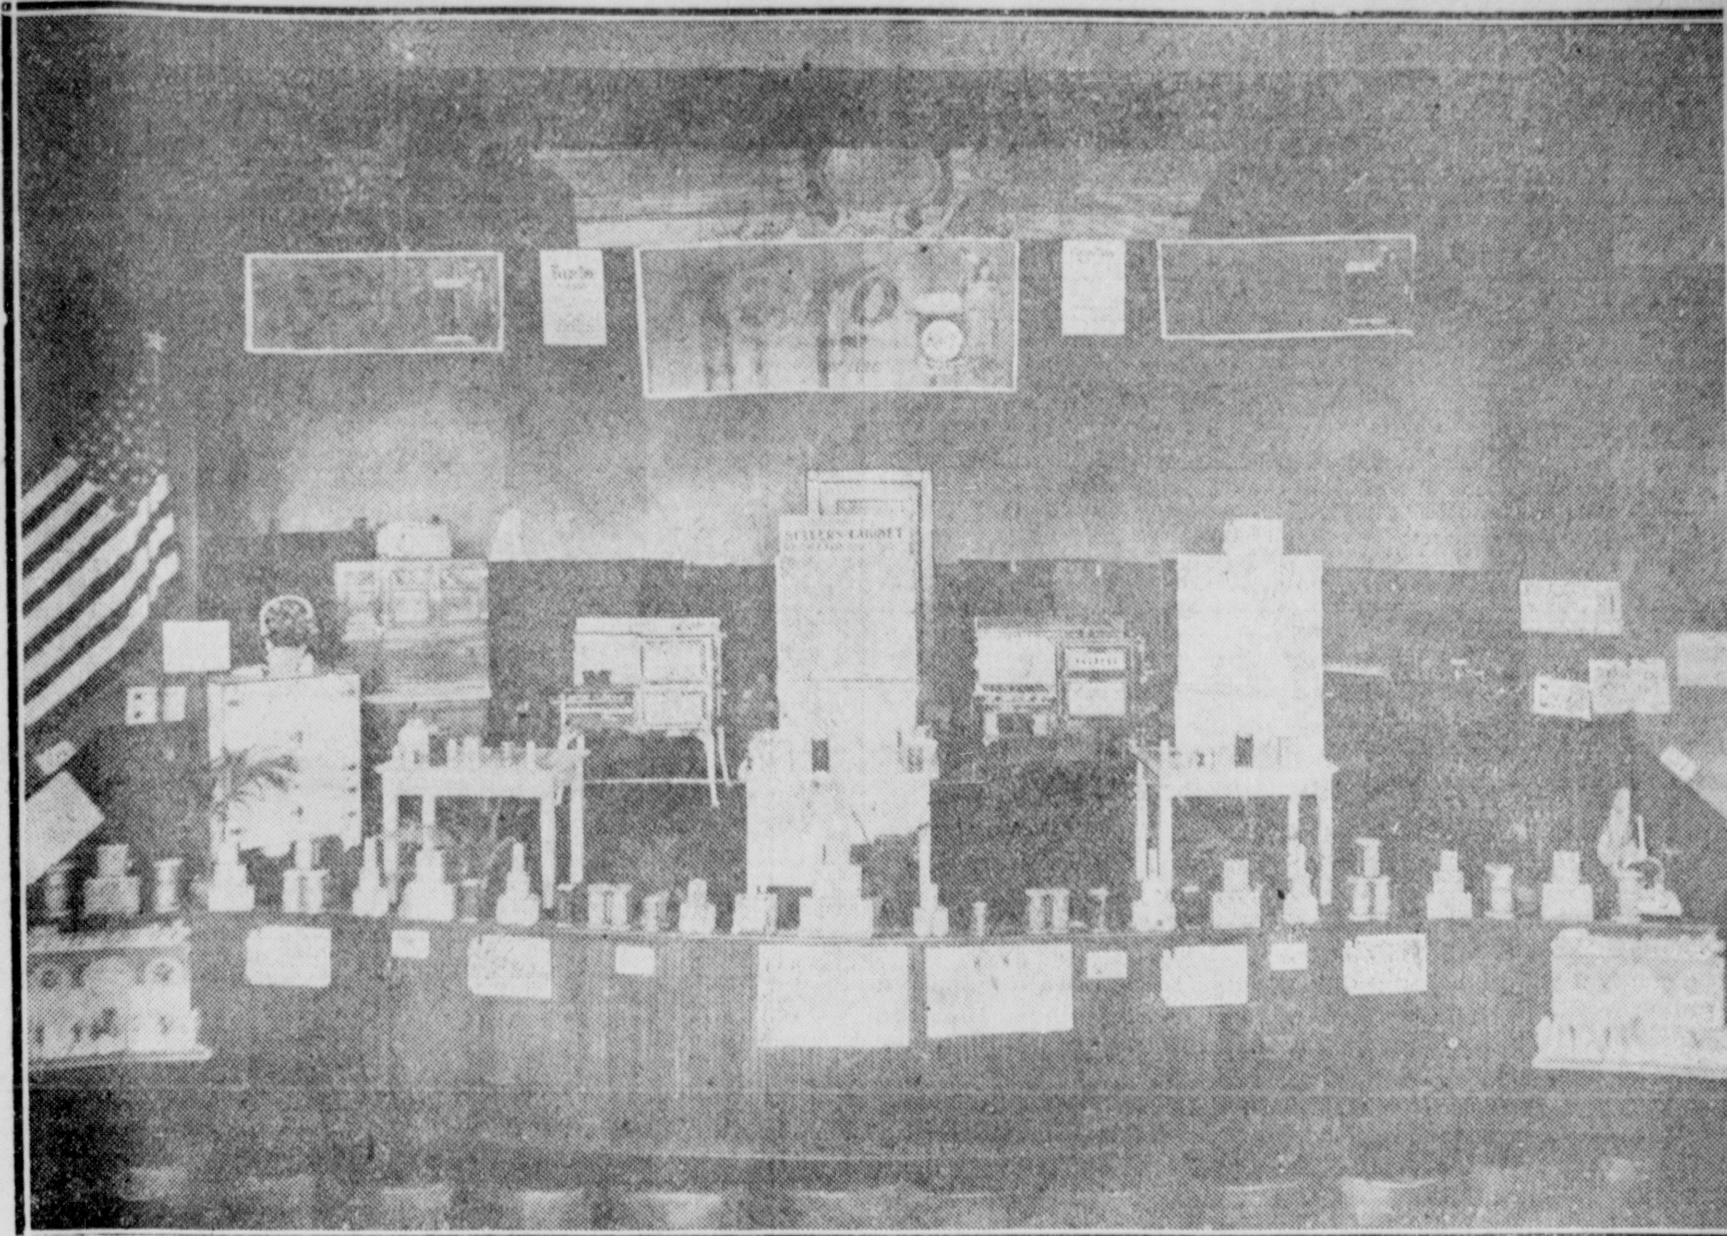

And there is a curious, apprehensive watchful glance in his eye that none of his friends like. Talking to a friend, his glance is always roving the ground fifty yards ahead. It is not fear, but a kind of sub-conscious watchfulness. He seems like a man never released from an unending strain.

Rest—perhaps a happy marriage—may bring back the old ease and gaiety. But at present the young Prince looks like a man who has survived a terrible ordeal.

SUMMONS CABINET

London, Sept. 27.—Premier Lloyd George has summoned a meeting of the cabinet for 7 o'clock to discuss the near east developments precipitated by the abdication of King Constantine.

Cooking School Popular; Here Is Reason

The above photo, taken Tuesday noon just before the cooking school of The Gazette and The Republican opened, shows the model kitchen arranged on the stage at the McKinley School Auditorium, where tempting delicacies are prepared during lectures on short cuts in cooking. All equipment including, ranges, kitchen cabinets, tables etc are loaned by various dealers of the city. The ingredients used by the demonstrators are also donated by local merchants.

The valuable hints given out at The Gazette and The Republican Cooking School on cooking and well-balanced menus, at the McKinley school building this week, also include tips on the latest in kitchen and household furniture and equipments made possible by the attractive display booths arranged by Xenia business houses, at the school during the week.

Since during the school all minds of the female patrons of the school are turning to the kitchen and its possibilities of attractiveness and up-to-dateness, the Hutchinson & Gibney Company, has arranged an attractive all-white model kitchen. The booth contains an all-white kitchen cabinet, and work table, an all white stove, and a linoleum rug of pretty pattern.

A noticeable array of food stuffs for the kitchen has been arranged in the booth of the Kennedy Grocery Company, all household groceries being represented in the display.

The latest in electrical appliances of any nature is included in the display of the W. C. W. Electrical Shop, who have also completed an attractive booth at the school.

In conjunction with the Cooking School, the Every Day Products company have a display, featuring the company's brands of non-alcoholic flavoring extracts. Fine candy will be given to all those in attendance at the Cooking School, each day, delicious sweets including Tropical Fruit, Lime and Strawberry to be included. All are invited to come to this booth and receive some of the toothsome candy.

Kitchen equipment is also featured in the display of the Adair Furniture Company, which has a complete kitchen which every bride or bride-to-be who attends the school will wish for. Handsome furniture for the living room is being shown in the display of the J. A. Beatty & Son furniture company, who have arranged another interesting booth for the school patrons.

In addition to the booths, the Eavey Company, has a display in front of the stage where the school is held, showing their many products. The Corn Products company has a similar array, of their products, including the Mazola oil, Argo Corn Starch and Karo syrup.

MAN IS CHARGED WITH DYNAMITING

Akron, Sept. 27.—C. W. Frost, 55, of North Barborton, was held to the grand jury today under $1,500 bond on a charge of dynamiting the home of Mrs. Minnie Cowin, pretty widow Sunday night.

Police charge that Frost, whose proposal was rejected by the comely widow, sought revenge and attempted the destruction of her home. The structure was partially wrecked.

At today's hearing Frost attempted to establish an alibi. Several witnesses have testified to seeing him near the Cowin home shortly before the explosion.

APPEAL HEARING DATE

Columbus, Sept. 27.—The state civil service commission will conduct its hearing at Lancaster, Oct. 5 relative to the appeal of Captain R. U. Hastings for reinstatement as superintendent of the Boys' Industrial School.

SEEKS TO KEEP AMENDMENT OFF NOVEMBER BALLOTS

Columbus, Sept. 27.—Attorney M. E. Tarakill, Columbus, today filed a suit in the Franklin County Common Pleas Court here asking that Secretary of State Smith be enjoined from placing on the November ballot, the proposed taxation amendment to the state constitution. The suit is based on claims that on the initiated petitions supporting the proposal those signatures written in ink, as required by the constitution are insufficient and that the proposal violates the initiative and referendum section of the Ohio constitution which forbids the use of I. & R. in efforts to bring about classification of property for taxation purposes.

CLAIM THERE IS TOO MUCH "VOCATIONAL" IN OUR SCHOOLS.

One of the leading magazines in discussing our school systems has the following to say:

"We have suffered our public schools to become the spoil of materialists. We have allowed ourselves to be persuaded that the important thing is to instruct how merely to obtain a living rather than how to live.

"And the cream of the jest is that the exponents of vocational training are defeating their own purposes because they will not see that even material success depends not so much upon personality, imagination, knowledge of men and women and of the economic forces which play upon one's business."

There is certainly a good deal in this view. The vocational training people tend to go too far in the public schools, as the technical training people do in the universities. "The life is more than meat and the body than raiment," and no system of education will ever really succeed unless it acknowledges this truth. Even for practical purposes, as the writer suggests, it is a mistake to confine teaching to the purely practical. The ideal, the cultural, the stuff concerned with the refinement of life and the elevation of taste and purpose, is needed to stimulate the life forces which are back of all achievement, and to give point and purpose to human effort.

WHAT IS A FAIR RENTAL?

New York City, thrown into confusion on "moving day" because of rent controversies, as the climax of a long series of landlord troubles, is trying in earnest to figure out what is a fair rental. That is the key to the solution.

If it can be determined to the general satisfaction of the public what percentage of income a landlord may properly expect from his property, there will remain to be determined only one other factor—what the property is worth. A simple operation in arithmetic will then show how much rent the tenant should pay. Thus rents may be adjusted, more or less automatically, in accordance with public sentiment of written law, and there can be no more charges of extortionate landlords or cheating tenants.

A New York judge has already decided, in a typical case, that a landlord is entitled to 10 per cent gross return on the value of his property. That is simple. Just have the property appraised at its probable market value, by an impartial tribunal of some sort, public or private, and one-tenth of the sum fixed will be the yearly rent.

This is said to be about the average rent expectation of American landlords in normal times. Whether it should be, everywhere and always, is open to question. The main thing is to have some present standard fixed, without delay, for every section or every state. Then tenants will be satisfied, and owners will know "where they are," and the financing of new homes will be simplified and building will proceed.

MENTAL HAZARDS.

Any golfer knows that it makes a lot of difference, when he comes to a hazard, if he heartily believes in himself and in what the club in his hand will do to the ball.

Perhaps as he looks from the tee he sees before him a shaggy downward slope and then a stream, ruffled by the breeze, and on the further bank a small patch of greensward, with trees close to it. He knows that everything depends on the one first shot, the drive, which must land the ball on the turf beyond the water. Can he do it? Whether he can or not, he must believe he can. He must tell himself he can. His mental attitude before he makes the move is everything.

All through life there is the parallel of the experience of the links, the diamond, the gridiron, the polo field. Many a man comes short of the success that he might reach because he yields to a sapping fear in his own nature. It is the structural weakness in his character that he takes counsel not of his intent and untried capacities, but of his doubts. It is so easy to stay put, in the same spot year after year, cautiously on the defensive, voting to make no change and to do nothing. This vegetative sloth is even easier than to take the line of least resistance, for it involves no action at all.

We create bogeys readily. We tell ourselves and others that there are lions in the way. The mental hazard becomes as formidable an obstacle as any physical barrier. In fact, it is the most serious impediment of all, for it prevents even a start.

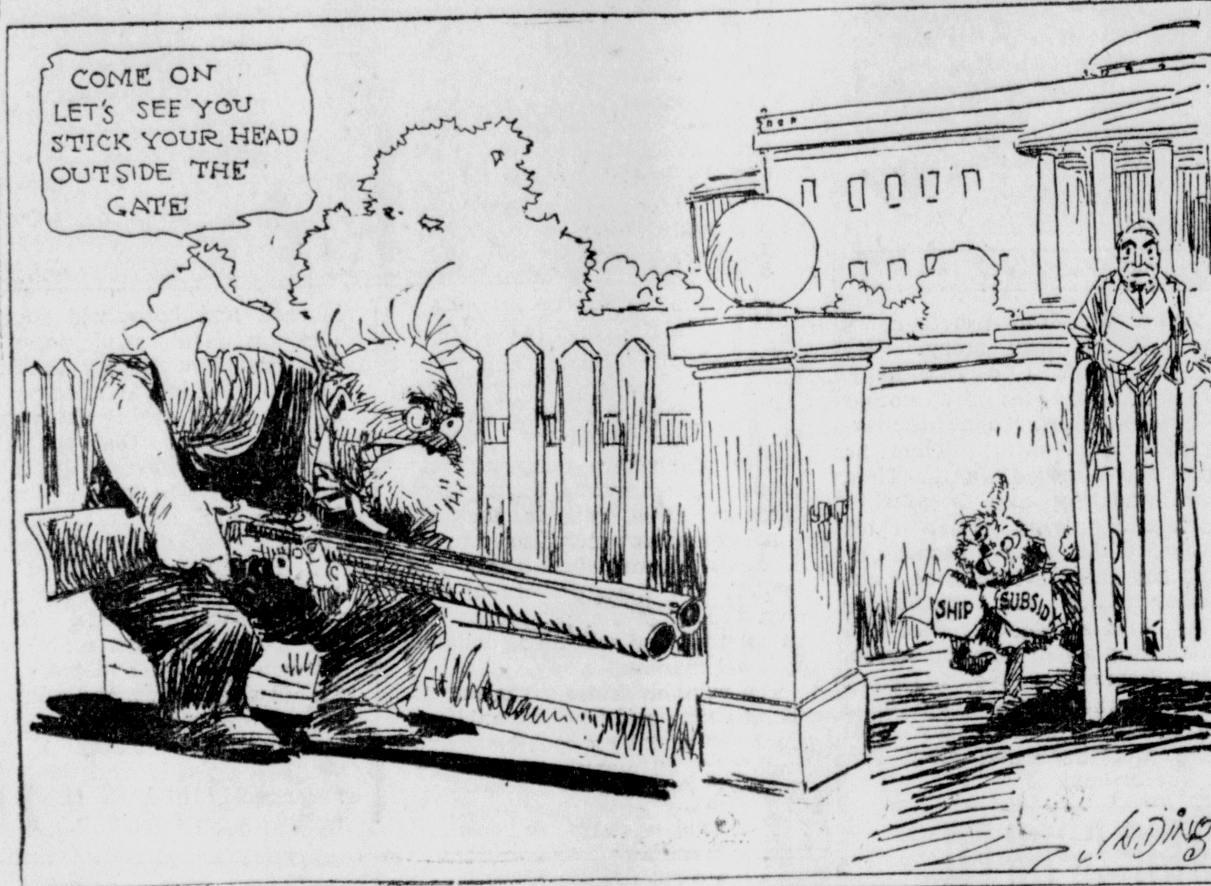

The mental hazard is often a mirage that disappears when you move nearer; a mist which the bright sun of the morning dissipates. Half the time to face a difficulty is to put it to flight. We are like timorous hunters, screwing up their courage to attack big game, and then finding it is more alarmed than they are.

Worry is more murderous than warfare. It slaughters peace of mind as warfare shatters the peace of nations, and it counts its victims by the thousands in settled communities. We must give battle to our own nerves, sometimes, as soldiers fight a crafty and unscrupulous foe. Our minds were not given us to make us afraid of the plain duty that lies before us; they were not designated to point out to us the futility of struggle, and competition, and ambition. They were meant to give us good advice, to tell us how to live, to bid us go ahead, in good cheer and confidence, unafraid.—Public Ledger.

Distinguished honors to Secretary Hughes marked his leaving when he sailed from Rio de Janeiro on his return voyage to the United States. This official visit of courtesy to the sister republic of Brazil has disseminated a wave of good feeling throughout Latin America and has afforded further proof that friendly personal association is often more valuable in promoting international amity than formal diplomatic relations. Excellent results attended the earlier visit of Secretary Root and Secretary Knox to our neighbors on the southern continent and greater frequency of similar journeys is desirable. Lately the dissatisfaction of Brazil with the tutelage interpretation of the Monroe doctrine has been voiced, and Secretary Hughes could readily disabuse the Brazilian mind of any misconception regarding the wholly beneficial role which the United States has assumed in strict adherence to this momentous policy.

Facial Massage No. 2.

Most women are familiar with the motions in massaging the complexion. The strokes are upward and outward; they start at the forehead between the eyes, smooth out the frowning lines across the forehead, iron over the brows feet at the edges of the eyes and come in again towards the nose, which is stroked from its top to its tip, with particular pressure on the nostrils. The motion begins again at the chin, crosses the mouth to

This is an important point because an oily skin does not want an oily cream, and a sensitive skin cannot stand a heavy one. Neither will a wrinkled skin benefit greatly from a cream that is only cleansing. You must experiment until you have found one that suits you best. Cream made from olive oil will not harm the most sensitive complexion and is always beneficial.

Rose—The most convenient way to handle henna is to get it in powder form. I will be glad to mail you directions for using it upon receipt of a stamped addressed envelope.

Edna—Many women are troubled, as you are, with growth of hair on the lip, but they keep it from disappearing by extracting all the coarse or dark hairs with tweezers that have blunt ends, bleaching the hair if it shows. The reason for using blunt end tweezers is because they grasp the hair, pulling it out from below the skin, whereas sharp ends clip off the hair like shaving.

Hettie—Use cream abundantly every day and after you have fully recovered from these operations your skin will not be so in need of feeding. A plain oil is not as satisfactory for the complexion as a cream but a cream, to be nourishing must be made of vegetable oils.

Tomorrow—A Bleaching Cream.

Mother Saved Her Baby

From Skin Suffering by use of Sykes Comfort Powder

Ashaway, R. L.—"With a large family of children and 17 grandchildren I have had a wide experience and I want to tell mothers that I have never found any powder that would keep a child's skin so free from chafing, itching, scalding, rashes and all irritations and soreness as Sykes Comfort Powder. There is nothing like it to heal the skin."—Mrs. Charles A. Brown, Ashaway, R. L.

The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is so successful in such cases is because it contains six healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums. For twenty years it has been used and endorsed by physicians and mothers, and nurses call it "A Healing Wonder."

EXTERNALS.

He said, "Jemima is a prize, a gem among the girls; in vain the gifted artist tries to paint her golden curls, and when I contemplate her eyes, my heart within me whirls." She said, "He is a fine young man, all wool and three feet wide; his whiskers are a dainty tan, with kopecks he's supplied, and in his hands a tin sedan I'll travel as his bride." So they were wed, and pounds of rice came swishing through the air; the pastor said, "I'm glad to splice so sumptuous a pair; I'm sure they'll put up lots of ice ere they have snowy hair." But he was prone to pinch a dime when once that dime was won; to him the program most sublime was hoarding minted mon; he thought it was a low down crime to spend a groat for fun. And she regarded chickenfeed as something made to spend; to buy up junk she didn't need was her chief aim and end; she was inclined to give no heed to maxims bankers lend. Her tresses glimmered in the light, just as they did before; her husband's whiskers were as bright as in the days of yore; and yet each day they had a fight, and, raging, walked the floor. It's well if brides, like roses blown, make ushers stand aghast; it's well for bridegrooms if they own a spread of whiskers vast; but sympathetic hearts alone will make a marriage last.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

I shall never cease to wonder at the marvelousness of the telephone. And the thing that mystifies me most is not that a voice can be sent across a wire, but that my friend's voice may be sent, exactly as it is.

Tonight I "listened in" to a beautiful concert. I merely touched the buttons of a simple machine in my library and heard music that was as sweet and clear as though sung within the room itself—though it was actually almost fifty miles away. And I got it through that little instrument attached by a wire from my window to a tall tree in my yard.

A friend handed me a magazine in which I have read a most interesting article headed "The Heart-beat of a Plant." Sir J. C. Bose, the noted Hindu biologist says that plants and trees have a heart beat similar to that of animals and human beings, with this exception, that the beat in the plant or tree is accomplished by minute cells, "each of which expands and contracts with a throbbing action continually drawing up water from below and expelling it upward to the next cell."

No matter where we go, whether to the rocks which have implanted within themselves the history of millions of years and the unwritten stories of countless events of living beings, or whether we seek the color in the flower or the silent story within the clouds, behind the stars, or about the daily life of the tiniest insect, still may we find that which speaks to the soul of mysteries yet to be unfolded.

Volumes have been written on the life of the bee, and yet a new thing has been recently observed—that the bees have a language! Experiments by Prof. Karl von Frisch, explained in a review in "The Scientific American," tells about it. And this language is the language of touch.

Each year finds us richer in knowledge of the unfolding mysteries of life.

How wonderful is the unfolding of a character! Especially if it is a beautiful character.

by George Matthew Adams

I shall never cease to wonder at the marvelousness of the telephone. And the thing that mystifies me most is not that a voice can be sent across a wire, but that my friend's voice may be sent, exactly as it is. Tonight I "listened in" to a beautiful concert. I merely touched the buttons of a simple machine in my library and heard music that was as sweet and clear as though sung within the room itself—though it was actually almost fifty miles away. And I got it through that little instrument attached by a wire from my window to a tall tree in my yard.

A friend handed me a magazine in which I have read a most interesting article headed "The Heart-beat of a Plant." Sir J. C. Bose, the noted Hindu biologist says that plants and trees have a heart beat similar to that of animals and human beings, with this exception, that the beat in the plant or tree is accomplished by minute cells, "each of which expands and contracts with a throbbing action continually drawing up water from below and expelling it upward to the next cell."

No matter where we go, whether to the rocks which have implanted within themselves the history of millions of years and the unwritten stories of countless events of living beings, or whether we seek the color in the flower or the silent story within the clouds, behind the stars, or about the daily life of the tiniest insect, still may we find that which speaks to the soul of mysteries yet to be unfolded.

Volumes have been written on the life of the bee, and yet a new thing has been recently observed—that the bees have a language! Experiments by Prof. Karl von Frisch, explained in a review in "The Scientific American," tells about it. And this language is the language of touch.

Each year finds us richer in knowledge of the unfolding mysteries of life.

How wonderful is the unfolding of a character! Especially if it is a beautiful character.

Facial Massage No. 2.

Most women are familiar with the motions in massaging the complexion. The strokes are upward and outward; they start at the forehead between the eyes, smooth out the frowning lines across the forehead, iron over the brows feet at the edges of the eyes and come in again towards the nose, which is stroked from its tip to its tip, with particular pressure on the nostrils. The motion begins again at the chin, crosses the mouth to

This is an important point because an oily skin does not want an oily cream, and a sensitive skin cannot stand a heavy one. Neither will a wrinkled skin benefit greatly from a cream that is only cleansing. You must experiment until you have found one that suits you best. Cream made from olive oil will not harm the most sensitive complexion and is always beneficial.

Rose—The most convenient way to handle henna is to get it in powder form. I will be glad to mail you directions for using it upon receipt of a stamped addressed envelope.

Edna—Many women are troubled, as you are, with growth of hair on the lip, but they keep it from disfiguring them by extracting all the coarse or dark hairs with tweezers that have blunt ends, bleaching the fine hair if it shows. The reason for using blunt end tweezers is because they grasp the hair, pulling it out from below the skin, whereas sharp ends clip off the hair like shaving.

Hattie—Use cream abundantly every day and after you have fully recovered from these operations your skin will not be so in need of feeding. A plain oil is not as satisfactory for the complexion as a cream but a cream, to be nourishing must be made of vegetable oils.

Tomorrow—A Bleaching Cream.

smooth out the ugliest wrinkles of all, lifts the sagging muscles of the cheek, and the fingers end their stroke in front of the ear.

This with variations is all there is to that mysterious and often costly rite called facial massage. In my opinion any massage stroke which does not pull down the muscles or which does not stretch the skin is beneficial. It isn't the variety of massage as much as the fact that there is massage at all which counts, for this massage is stimulating and brings the blood up to the face clearing congested pores and feeding impoverished tissues.

The second most important consideration is what sort of cream should be used.

LEGION WILL OPEN FOOTBALL SEASON WITH DAYTON NINE

Close on the heels of the gridiron lid prying event to be staged by Central High Friday, the American Legionion veteran football team will inaugurate the independent pigskin season at the Fairgrounds oblong Sunday afternoon with the Dayton Mascottes.

It will be the first time this season that fans will have an opportunity to see Coach George Baldner's lads in action because of the popularity attained by the eleven last season, it is anticipated that a large opening day crowd will be on hands.

The Mascotte club puts out one of the fastest teams in the Gem City, and is an annual visitor to this city, where the team has a big following. This year the Mascotte management has gathered together practically the same bunch of athletes that put them on the grid map of Dayton last fall, and with the addition of a few new players, are out for the city championship.

Coach Baldner, the veteran mentor, has been driving his charges hard for the beginning of the campaign. The lights at Washington St. Park to permit the team to practice at night, have not yet been installed and as a result the team has not had the severe drilling it should, which means hard work for the rest of the week. The lights will be ready for Thursday night's practice and the recruits will meet at the Legion Wednesday night for signal drill.

A large squad has reported and while a few new faces will be seen in the lineup Sunday, the majority of the footballers who will wear the Legion colors are the veterans who have popularized themselves with high school and independent teams here in the past. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Styles BY LENORE

Attendance at only a few of the openings in Paris leaves no doubt as to what are the most favored colors for daytime wear. Beige, nigger brown, caramel brown, and taupe were the colors seen in tailored suits, in cloth, silk or velvet frocks. Brown velvet made several of the most stunning afternoon dresses in the collection of Worth, a house as famous today as in that early Victorian period when no lady of quality but was gowned in stiff brocaded satin designed by M. Worth of Paris, grandfather to the present Mr. Worth.

The dresses in this collection follow-low no rules as to necklines, and the sleeves are equally varied. For daytime the silhouette is usually straight. And the length of the skirt is conservative. Which is to say that the length is suited to the occasion for which the gown is made.

A gown suitable for all occasions of daytime wear is shown in the sketch. It is made of brown satin faced crepe with lattice work treatment and an attractive girle with metal pendants.

URGE RESIGNATION OF SPRINGFIELD CITY COMMISSION

Springfield, Sept. 27.—Clark county grand jurors, at the completion of their investigation into charges of city hall graft, here yesterday, recommended that all five of the city commissioners now in office resign and allow the citizens to elect an entire new commission.

Although the grand jury found that outside influence had been at work in the city hall to such an extent that they have, practically nullified the usefulness of the present commissioners, they found, according to their report, no evidence which would warrant them in returning an indictment.

More than 100 witnesses were called in the investigation, which was made following charges in an open meeting of the commission a month ago that one of the commissioners had been offered 10 per cent in connection with a city contract.

ROBBED GRAVES OF FLORAL TRIBUTES

Cincinnati, Sept. 27.—A ghoulish practice that has prevailed for months was revealed Tuesday evening when William Salway, superintendent of Spring Grove Cemetery, swore to a warrant for the arrest of Edward Santo, a florist, on the ground that he had bartered with small boys for flowers which they stole from new made graves. He said the youngsters would wait until the mourners had left the grave yard and then before the workmen began throwing dirt into the grave, would swoop down and seize the baskets of flowers, making off with them to the florist who purchased the lot. Many of the funeral sprays were then made over into bridal bouquets and similar floral pieces. Santo is to be given a hearing on Friday when six boys will be called to testify against him.

NO REST—NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back, and distressing urinary disorders. Xenia people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Be guided by their experience.

Mrs. David Pohl, 751 W. Second St., Xenia, gave the following statement Aug. 12, 1917: "I suffered with lame back, but the most annoying symptoms was the irregular action of my kidneys. I felt languid when I arose in the morning and it seemed I never could get any rest. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Donaghy's Drug Store, and they helped me immediately and the second box cured me entirely."

On Aug. 15, 1921, Mrs. Pohl said: "I am glad to again say that Doan's Kidney Pills are the one reliable kidney remedy that cured me of kidney trouble some years ago. I have had no further occasion to use Doan's but I am glad to confirm the statement I gave in 1917 in behalf of this remedy."

SCHOOL PUPILS HEAR LECTURE ON FOOD PREPARATION AT COOKING LECTURES ON WEDNESDAY; THURSDAY TO BE "CAKE DAY"

The students of McKinley Junior High received a compound lesson in the preparation of well balanced foods, a part of their regular school curriculum, when they were afforded a lecture by Dr. R. B. Shives, instructor of The Gazette and The Republican Cooking School, and a demonstration on cake baking, Wednesday morning. The pupils of the Junior High School, boys and girls and the teachers of the school attended the lecture and demonstration.

Dr. Shives gave his audience a short lecture upon the importance of certain foods to the body, and the value of proper foods to the mind and general physical condition. Following the lecture a demonstration was given on cake baking.

With the decidedly successful inauguration of the school to the patrons from Xenia City and Greene County, Tuesday and with the prizes offered as an added incentive, hundreds of housewives are expected to flock to the school daily. The attractive menus, the simple recipes and the expert instruction given by the lecturers have proved features that will lead the women of the city and county to find time to attend the school.

The following Xenia and Greene County housewives won prizes at the first day of the school at the McKinley Building, Tuesday, the prizes, sacks of DeWine's Good Luck Flour, and baskets of groceries, were won by the women at the close of the demonstrations, a lucky number winning the prize.

Those who won a sack of flour were, Mrs. W. L. Compton, 104 West Main Street; Mrs. J. W. McCollum, Xenia R. F. D. 3; Miss Rose Berry, 224 Cincinnati Avenue; Miss Anna McCracken, and Mrs. Paul Owens, both of this city. Miss McCracken donated her prize to the Opportunity School.

TIME TO FACE THE FACTS

But after four years doctoring with six different doctors, without results, for acute indigestion, gastritis, constipation, appendicitis and other ailments, I was said to possess. I also was entirely relieved of my trouble, and am sure this medicine will do all and more than is claimed for it." ## ROBBED GRAVES OF FLORAL TRIBUTES

Cincinnati, Sept. 27.—A ghoul practice that has prevailed for months was revealed Tuesday evening when William Salway, superintendent of Spring Grove Cemetery, swore to a warrant for the arrest of Edward Santo, a florist, on the ground that he had bartered with small boys for flowers which they stole from new made graves. He said the youngsters would wait until the mourners had left the grave yard and then before the workmen began throwing dirt into the grave, would swoop down and seize the baskets of flowers, making off with them to the florist who purchased the lot. Many of the funeral sprays were then made over into bridal bouquets and similar floral pieces. Santo is to be given a hearing on Friday when six boys will be called to testify against him.

BOY SCOUTS STAGE IMPRESSIVE WORK TUESDAY EVENING

Impressing the fifty people, who gathered at the First Presbyterian Church, Tuesday night to witness the ceremony, incident to the affiliation of Xenia Boy Scout Troop 1, with the Dayton Council, with the excellent training afforded by the organization, a program consisting of competitive drill, pack inspection and boxing bouts was given by the local organization.

Scout Executive John Haen, his assistant Perle Whitehead and Eagle Scouts, Thomas Sands, Edward Dohse, and Don Hill of Dayton attended the program at the request of Scout Master Leigh Nisbet. Mr. Haen, in a short talk complimented the local organization on its efficiency and welcomed it into the Dayton Council Boy Scouts of America.

The entertainment opened with pack inspection and was followed by competitive drill which was won by Henry Eavey after the contest had been narrowed down to Eavey and Robert Wead. Excellent discipline marked the performance, and thorough instruction in drill and pack matters was evident, in the way the scouts handled the work.

With the completion of the prize drill, the room was quickly turned into a squared ring and at the top of a gong the preliminary boxing bout was on. Two lads stripped to the waist made their appearance and the referee announced that Edward Sayre and Archer Maxwell would meet in a three-round decision bout. Judges were quickly selected from the audience, J. E. Kelly, C. S. Frazer and C. A. Weaver, acting in that capacity.

Again the gong and the scrap was on. Demonstrating their prowess in the many art, the youngsters exchanged upper cuts, body blows and jabs with a skill that brought applause from the spectators. The bout went the scheduled length and the decision was given to Maxwell.

Max Marshall and Ervin Rutan boxed three rounds to a draw and were followed by William Harner of Troop 2, and Harold Jordan of Troop 1, who fought for the honors of their respective troops. In a scrappy three round bout, featured by clever footwork and a skilful exchange of blows, Harner had a slight edge over his opponent and was given the decision by the judges. Horace Smith acted as referee.

Maxwell and Harner by virtue of their prowess in the ring were awarded the purple ribbon which signifies athletic skill. Eavey by winning the prize drill was awarded the brown ribbon designating efficiency and Wead, who was a close second in the drill received honorable mention.

RETIRED BISHOP OFFERS TO TAKE MENTAL EXAMINATION

Galion, O., Sept. 27.—Following the collapse of the movement to try Bishop William Montgomery Brown retired Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Arkansas, now a resident of this city on heresy charges growing out of statements contained in his book, "Communism and Christianity" the bishop dispatched today a challenge to the house of bishops offering to submit himself for a thorough mental examination by professors of psychology of Yale, Columbia or Johns Hopkins Universities. The offer was the outgrowth of printed reports that failure to proceed with the heresy trial was due to doubt of Bishop Brown's mental responsibility.

TRANSCONTINENTAL ROLL CALL BY PHONE

Some of the wonders of modern telephony will be dramatically presented to an audience which is expected to crowd the new public hall in Cleveland, Sept. 29 when the Telephone Pioneers of America hold an evening's entertainment during the ninth annual convention.

A feature of the demonstrations will be the trans-continental roll call amplified to the big audience by means of the Bell Loud Speaker, according to Manager H. W. Cleaver, of the Ohio Bell Telephone exchange here.

The roll call will culminate in telephone conversation from New York to San Francisco, with Cleveland "listening in." New York answers first, and then city by city the various stations on the transcontinental telephone line "cut in." Telephone experts say the roll call is one of the most striking and dramatic marvels of telephony. As voices answer "New York"—"Cleveland"—"Omaha"—"Denver" and so on across the country to San Francisco the telephone roll call wends its way.

Pioneers will begin to arrive in Cleveland on special trains September 28 for convention sessions Sept. 29 and 30. They will be guests of the N. C. Kingsbury Chapter which includes in its membership more than 350 Ohio men and women who have been in the telephone industry for more than 21 years. The national organization now has more than 5,000 members and many of these have been in the business since the early days of crude telephones and wires strung on house tops and trees. To become a member of the Pioneers a man or woman must have worked in the telephone industry for 21 years or more.

The Xenia delegation which will leave here Thursday morning includes Charles R. Cross, H. W. Cleaver and H. L. Karch.

FIX VALUATION OF CAMP SHERMAN AT OVER 7 MILLIONS

Chillicothe, Sept. 27.—The property of Camp Sherman is roughly estimated at $7,360,000 in value, according to Deputy County Auditor, P. K. Rice, and assistants who have started the work of investigating the valuation of the property so that it may be listed among Ross county's non-assessable property.

"The total valuation of the reservation including buildings, lands and utilities, was placed at about $15,000,000 in 1917, but it is estimated that depreciation on construction since that time has run about fifty per cent. This is chiefly in buildings, utilities being practically as good as new.

"The acreage has three divisions:

2,035.24 acres in the camp proper, practically all of which is used by the government school; 620.27 in the old rifle range, contemplated as a school of forestry and 2,144.11 in the old maneuvering grounds, only a part of which is now used by the school. There are 32 miles of sewer line, 12 miles of water mains, 12 miles of narrow gauge railroad and six reservoirs. The camp's utilities are fit to serve a city of 50,000 population."

BOY SCOUTS STAGE IMPRESSIVE WORK TUESDAY EVENING

Impressing the fifty people, who gathered at the First Presbyterian Church, Tuesday night to witness the ceremony, incident to the affiliation of Xenia Boy Scout Troop 1, with the Dayton Council with the excellent training afforded by the organization, a program consisting of competitive drill, pack inspection and boxing bouts was given by the local organization.

Scout Executive John Haen, his assistant Perle Whitehead and Eagle Scouts, Thomas Sands, Edward Dohse, and Don Hill of Dayton attended the program at the request of Scout Master Leigh Nisbet. Mr. Haen, in a short talk complimented the local organization on its efficiency and welcomed it into the Dayton Council Boy Scouts of America.

The entertainment opened with pack inspection and was followed by competitive drill which was won by Henry Eavey after the contest had been narrowed down to Eavey and Robert Wead. Excellent discipline marked the performance, and thorough instruction in drill and pack matters was evident, in the way the scouts handled the work.

With the completion of the prize drill, the room was quickly turned into a squared ring and at the tap of a gong the preliminary boxing bout was on. Two lads stripped to the waist made their appearance and the referee announced that Edward Sayre and Archer Maxwell would meet in a three-round decision bout. Judges were quickly selected from the audience, J. E. Kelly, C. S. Frazer and C. A. Weaver, acting in that capacity.

Again the gong and the scrap was on. Demonstrating their prowess in the manly art, the youngsters exchanged upper cuts, body blows and jabs with a skill that brought applause from the spectators. The bout went the scheduled length and the decision was given to Maxwell.

Max Marshall and Ervin Rutan boxed three rounds to a draw and were followed by William Harner of Troop 2, and Harold Jordan of Troop 1, who fought for the honors of their respective troops. In a scrappy three round bout, featured by clever footwork and a skilful exchange of blows, Harner had a slight edge over his opponent and was given the decision by the judges. Horace Smith acted as referee.

Maxwell and Harner by virtue of their prowess in the ring were awarded the purple ribbon which signifies athletic skill. Eavey by winning the prize drill was awarded the brown ribbon designating efficiency and Wead, who was a close second in the drill received honorable mention.

The woman, who was bedfast last week is able to walk now, it was stated. Refusing to state what her assets aggregate, she expressed belief that estimates of her debts have been exaggerated.

CLARK COUNTY GETS FUNDS FOR PAVING

The Yellow Springs-Springfield pike, is among the list of roads under contemplation by the Clark County officials, on the paving program for 1923. In a conference with State Highway Director L. C. Herrick and other state highway department officials, Tuesday, the Clark County officials secured $104,000 state aid money to be applied to Clark county roads within the coming year. This, with a like amount to be furnished by the county as its share will insure $202,000 to be spent next year on Clark County roads.

While the Clark County officials have not completed the road program for 1923, there are about 15 miles of Clark County roads they would like to have paved this year, but the money secured will not permit over seven or eight miles being paved.

The first of the roads under contemplation for improvement is the two mile stretch of the Springfield-Washington C. H. pike, from the end of the newly paved section to the county line.

CORA IS UNSYMPATHETIC Chapter 81

Cora also was recipient of Nellie's anxieties regarding her lack of ease of knowing the niceties, the little amenities of society. But to Cora always a working girl, they seemed trifling—too trifling to worry about. "It's what we are that counts, Nellie," she said.

"What one does counts with those people—his kind, Cora. And it isn't the big things either! Just measly little things that make one so uncomfortable. I never thought much about being born, only to wish I hadn't been—when I was at Miss Carter's—but I'm beginning to think it makes a lot of difference who your folks are. You get something born in you, something from them. Miss Dorothy was in the office, wanting George to help her look up something connected with their family tree—she's a Daughter of the Revolution, and a lot of other dames. I guess my family tree was a weed, not a tree at all. Oh, I do wish I was somebody."

"You never used to talk like that, Nellie. You used to say you'd show people you were somebody in spite of handicaps. What's come over you?" "Well, you see, Cora, I never knew people like Miss Dorothy and the other women George knows, I thought society people were real proud and haughty, had lots of money, and that's all I thought about them. But it isn't all. Some of them are real kind, and simple; and they all have a way of doing things that shows what they are. A way that makes one, who doesn't know how, uncomfortable, even when they are kind."

"You'll soon get into those little ways after you are married. If it was some big thing, something to worry about, you'd have my sympathy. But I'm astonished at you, worrying about such trifles."

"They're not trifles—not if one is with them, going to be with them all ways. It's just like our work, Cora. It's the difference in doing it almost right and doing it perfectly. Being almost right, doesn't get a girl what she wants in business; and being almost right won't make her a success with those people."

"Don't think about it any more. You are too sensible to talk like his. How is your sewing coming on?"

"Oh, pretty well! I've got some real pretty things." But there was no enthusiasm in the girl's voice, and Cora wondered. What had come over Nellie, to fuss so about non-essentials?

"Even Cora doesn't understand," Nellie said to herself as she turned away, "only Mrs. Roberts seems to know how I feel, and that's because she's one of them herself, even if she is poor now."

It was only six weeks until the day she had promised to marry George Fallon and as the days passed Nellie's uneasiness increased. Summoning all her courage she spoke to him of her fears; her lack of inbred understanding. He laughed her fears away for the time being, telling her she was wonderful; that once she got away from the old life, the new one would look differently to her. But away from him her fears returned and, as she worked over her simple trousseau, or was being fitted by the cheap dressmaker, they dampened her joy in the future.

"If he were ever ashamed of me it would kill me," she said often. "And won't he be?" I'll make blunders, lots of them."

During this time she had seen very little of Donald Horn. He purposely kept out of the way. But occasionally they would meet in the dining room, or on the stairs. He was invariably pleasant, but he had a strained look on his face. Nellie never had noticed before, a sad look in his eyes. He never spoke of his own affairs now, and she feared something had gone wrong with him. One day meeting him unexpectedly in the hall, she spoke of it. "You don't look well, Donald, is everything going all right?" "Right as a trivet!" he replied, smiling at her. "I have been promoted. I'm assistant editor, if you please."

"Oh, how nice! But why didn't you tell me? You knew I would be glad."

"You have been busy—and I thought—wouldn't—have time to think of me," he stammered.

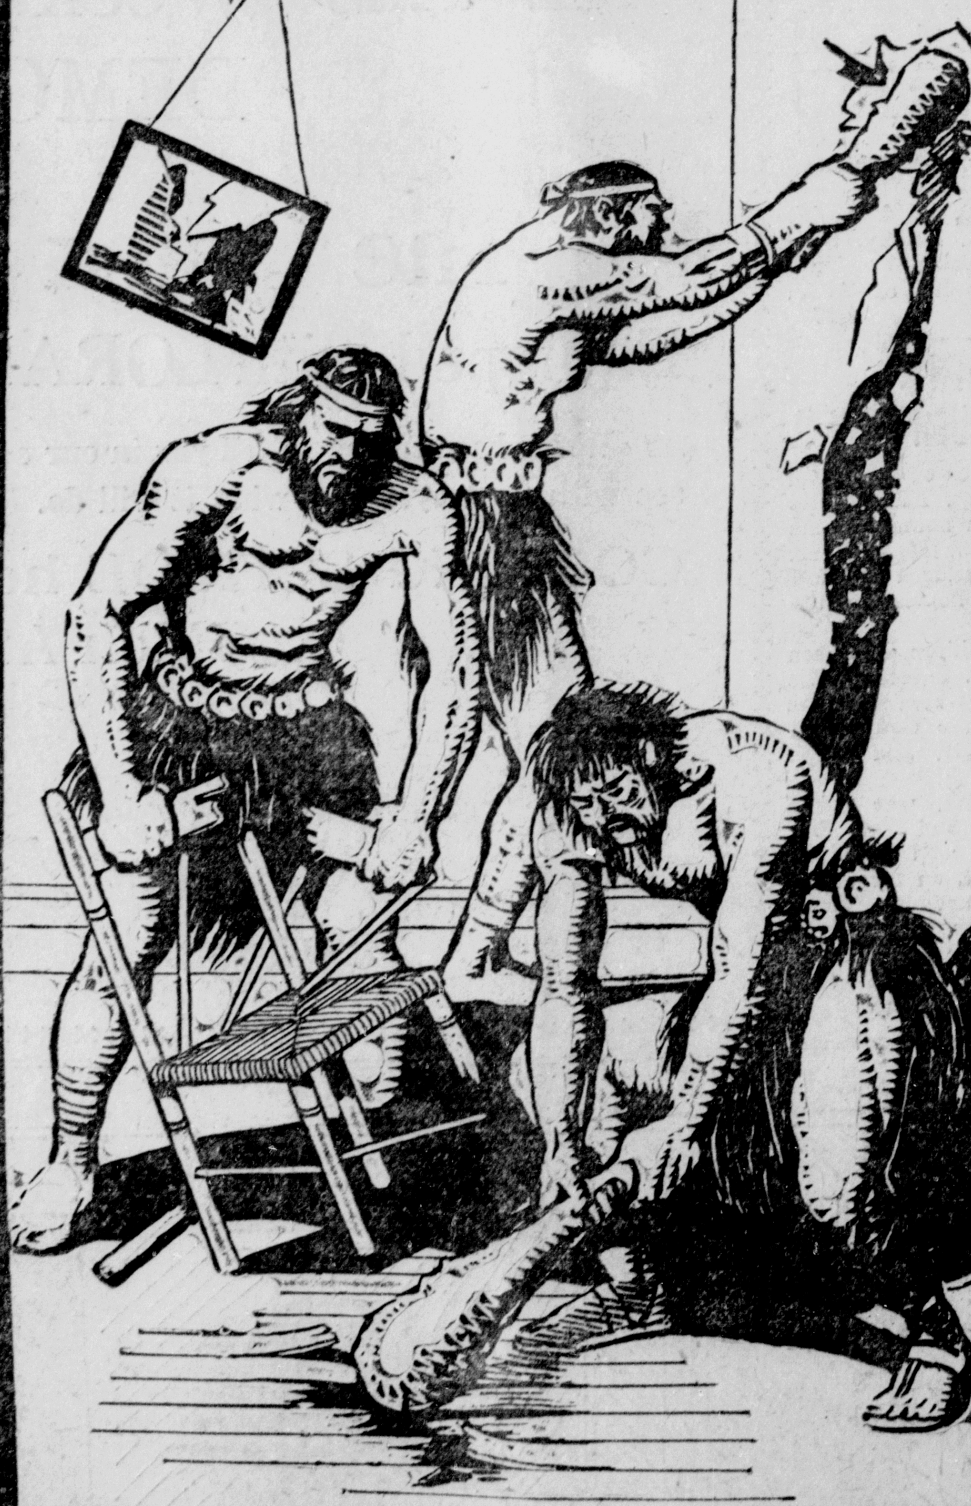

"That wasn't kind, Donald. We are just as good friends as ever I hope. I have been busy. I am to be married soon but that doesn't hinder my being interested in your good luck." Tomorrow—Nellie's Last Week in the Office

SNATCHES CHILD FROM PATH OF INTERURBAN

Quick action on the part of Fred Papania, 812 South Wittenberg ave., Springfield, saved the life of 17-months-old Donald Townsend, of Springfield, who was snatched from the path of a Springfield-Xenia traction car, Tuesday morning. Papania had stopped his produce wagon in front of the Townsend home, 528 So. Wittenberg avenue and the child ran out to the wagon with Mrs. Townsend, his foster-mother. While Mrs. Townsend was making purchases the child ran toward the track just as the S. and X. car rounded the corner from Clark Street, on to Wittenberg avenue. The car was coming rapidly and was not noticed. Papania snatched the child from the path of the car just in time to save its life.

COLLEGE CLASSES AT CEDARVILLE START; NEARLY 150 REGISTER

The second week at Cedarville College shows the classes all fully organized and the enrollment still increasing. At our last report, one hundred and three registered in the regular college classes and thirty-five in music. At the present time there are one hundred and eight registered in the regular college and 38 in music, making a total enrollment of one hundred forty-six. One of the interesting facts of the enrollment is, that one hundred per cent of the Cedarville High School Class which graduated last May, has enrolled in Cedarville College. This speaks well for the co-operation which exists between the High School and the college.

The states that are represented by the students are: Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Indiana, Missouri, Michigan and one foreign country, Prince Edwards Island.

The religious denominations represented by the students are: Reformed, Presbyterian, United Presbyterian, Associate Presbyterian, Presbyterian U. S. A., Methodist Episcopal Baptist North, Baptist, South, Friends, Catholic, Church of Christ Scientist, Reformed and Lutheran.

The student body elected Forrest Nagley, as cheer leader, Margaret McClellan, editor-in-chief of the Cedrus annual, and Walker Taylor, manager of the football team.

The Y. M. and Y. W. associations held interesting opening meetings held Wednesday. The leader of Y. W. was Miss Myrtle Bickett, and the Y. M. was Mr. Donald Wickham. The Y. M. is planning a social event in the near future. Both organizations are arranging through their cabinets, for the observance of the Association Week of Prayer, in November.

The freshmen class held its annual opening spread last Wednesday at the residence of Miss Dorothy Tarr. They report a good time and splendid refreshments, notwithstanding the interference from the upperclassmen. The various classes have been holding business meetings during the past week, and organizing for the various features of the year that will be of interest to each class.

The football team is rapidly developing under the efficient training of Director Warner and the splendid management of Walker Taylor, and the lovers of this sport are sure to see some excellent playing on the home grid. The present indications are, that Cedarville College will have one of the best teams in the field that it has ever had.

The chapel was never so full of students as it is this year. Not only all of the regular seats are full, but extra seats have been placed clear to the front of the platform, and on either side of it.

The brick work on the new Science Hall is rapidly going up, and it is hoped that the building will be under roof by winter.

The Boarding Club has sixty-four members, and is one of the most popular institutions of the college.

There is considerable talk in the air of the formation of an orchestra among the students, as there seems to be enough of them who can play the various instruments that comprise such a musical company.

All of the students practically have taken their physical examination and the gym classes will start next week in the Alford Memorial Building.

Several of the alumni, who are teaching, have written to the president of the college, sending in lists of prospective students for next year. At a religious conference of nationwide importance, recently held in Pittsburgh, Revs. Homer MacMillan, J. Alvin Orr, James M. McQuilkin, and E. C. McCown had prominent places on the program. All of these ministers attended Cedarville College.

CLIFTON

Mr. Isaac B. Preston returned a week ago from New Mexico where he and his wife have been spending several months. Mrs. Preston remained with her daughter Mrs. Fred Corry.

Dr. and Mrs. Nelson Clark, of Pittsburgh, Pa. have been spending a week here with their parents, on returning from a trip of a month at Estes Park, Colorado.

Rev. and Mrs. Ross Hume, of Monmouth, Ill. announce the birth of twin sons. Mr. Hume was pastor of the United Presbyterian Church here for six years.

A reception honoring Miss Harriet Lewis, of Canton, China, will be given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. H. Corry on Clay Street. Women of the 1st and 2nd Auxiliary Presbyterian Church will be hostesses entertaining all the women of the congregation.

Rev. and Mrs. J. G. C. Webster were called to Pittsburgh, Pa., last week by the death of Mrs. Webster's mother.

Mrs. Ballantyne of Detroit Street, Xenia, gave a most delightful talk on India to thirty members of the Presbyterian 2nd Auxiliary last Wednesday afternoon. The society also had Miss Harriet Lewis, of China, as a guest. Mrs. Ballantyne was entertained.
